E Pluribus Unum . . .
One Out of Many

Washington School
Greenville, Mississippi
Volume VI

The basic foundation of all lasting establishments is the statement of its principles. Unity of principles joins many into one as charters are drawn up to form institutions.

From the multitudes of men, one must be chosen.

Many beliefs of an institution are united into one symbol.

Oneness: "United we stand, Divided we fall."

Illustrations by Kathy Pettiet and Cynthia Sidney.

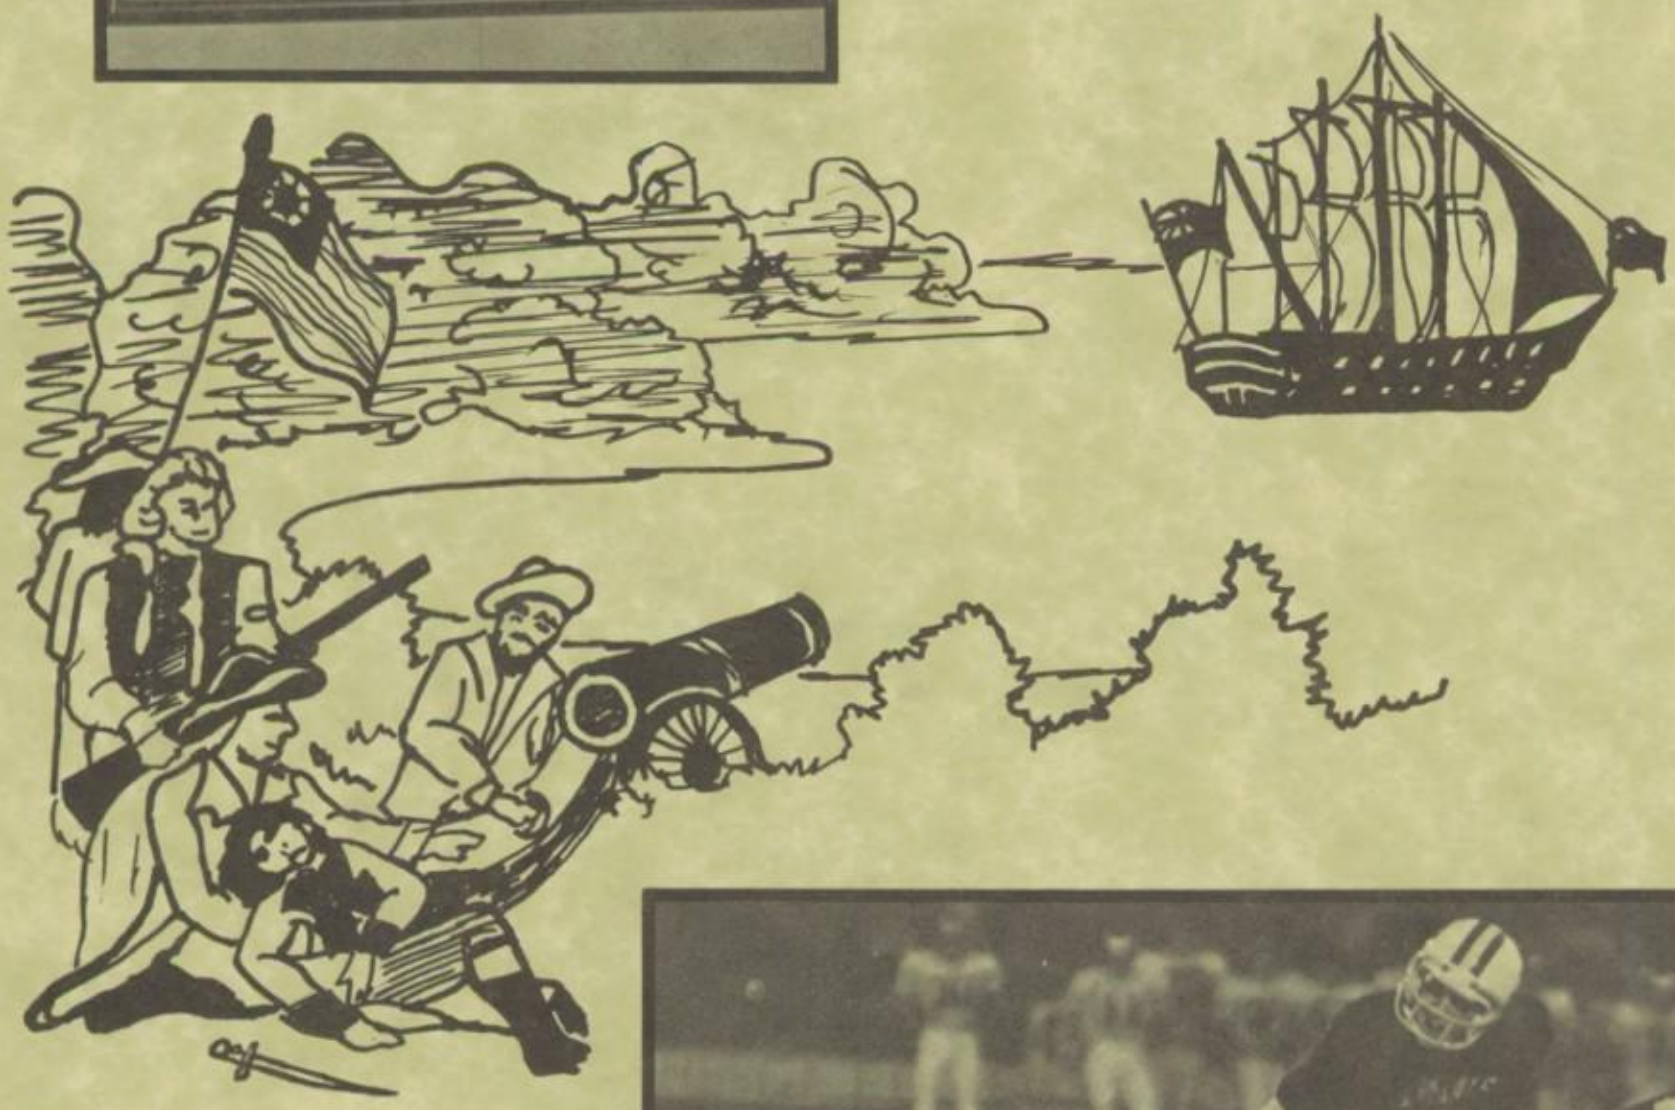
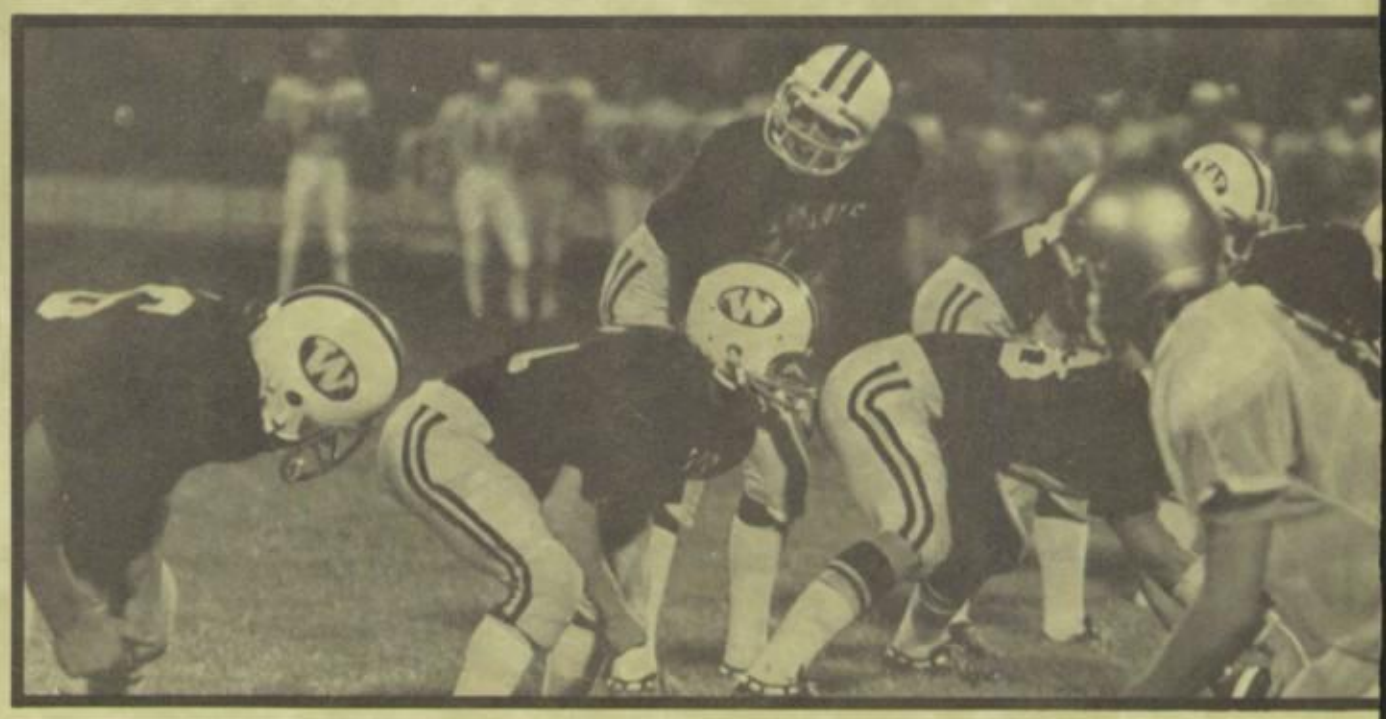
WASHINGTON SCHOOL
EXITUS ACTA PROBAT

E PLURIBUS UNUM



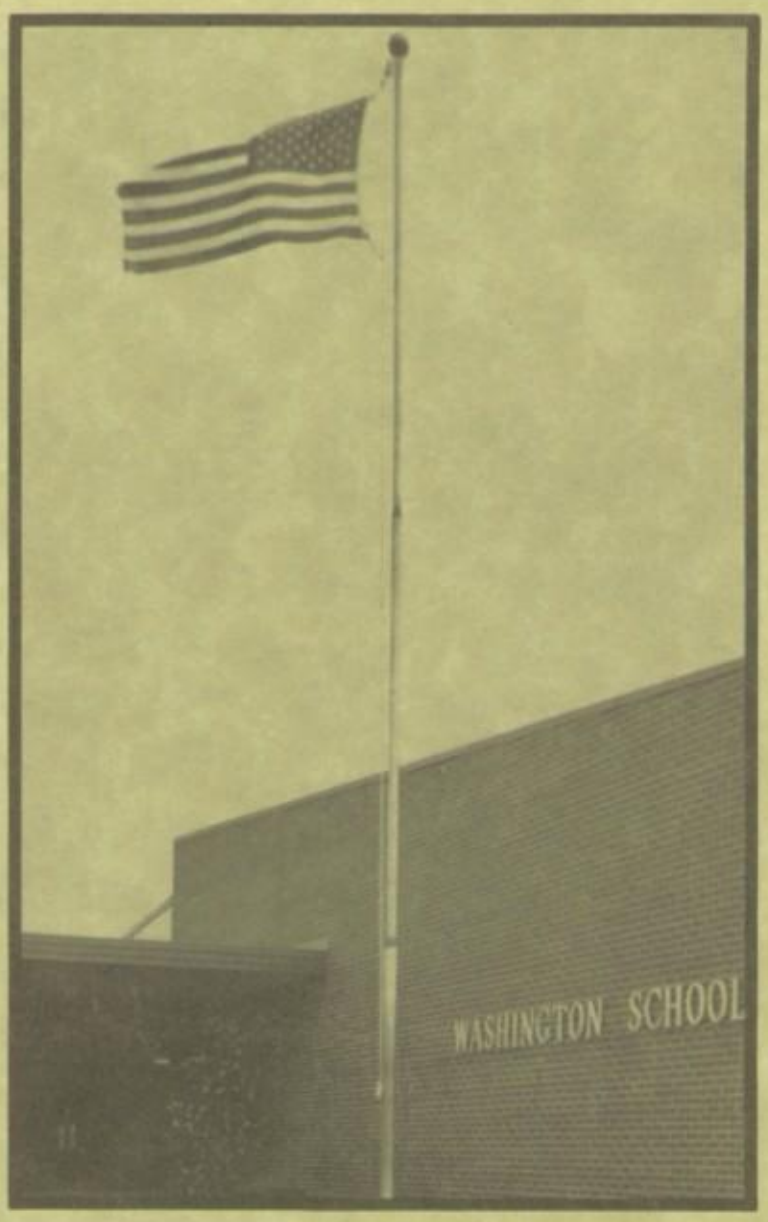


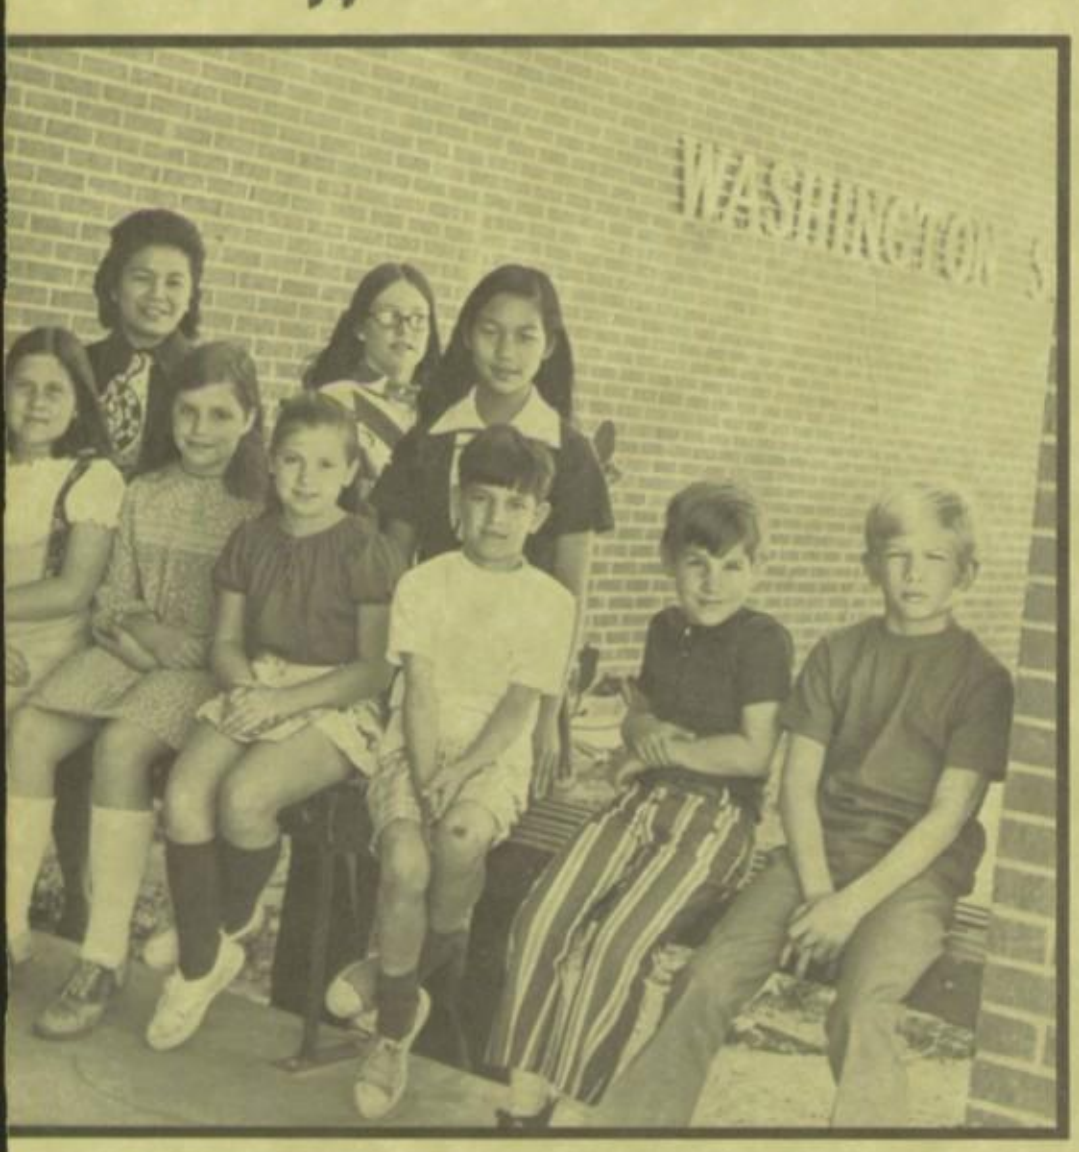
One banner stands to rise invincible before the common foe.

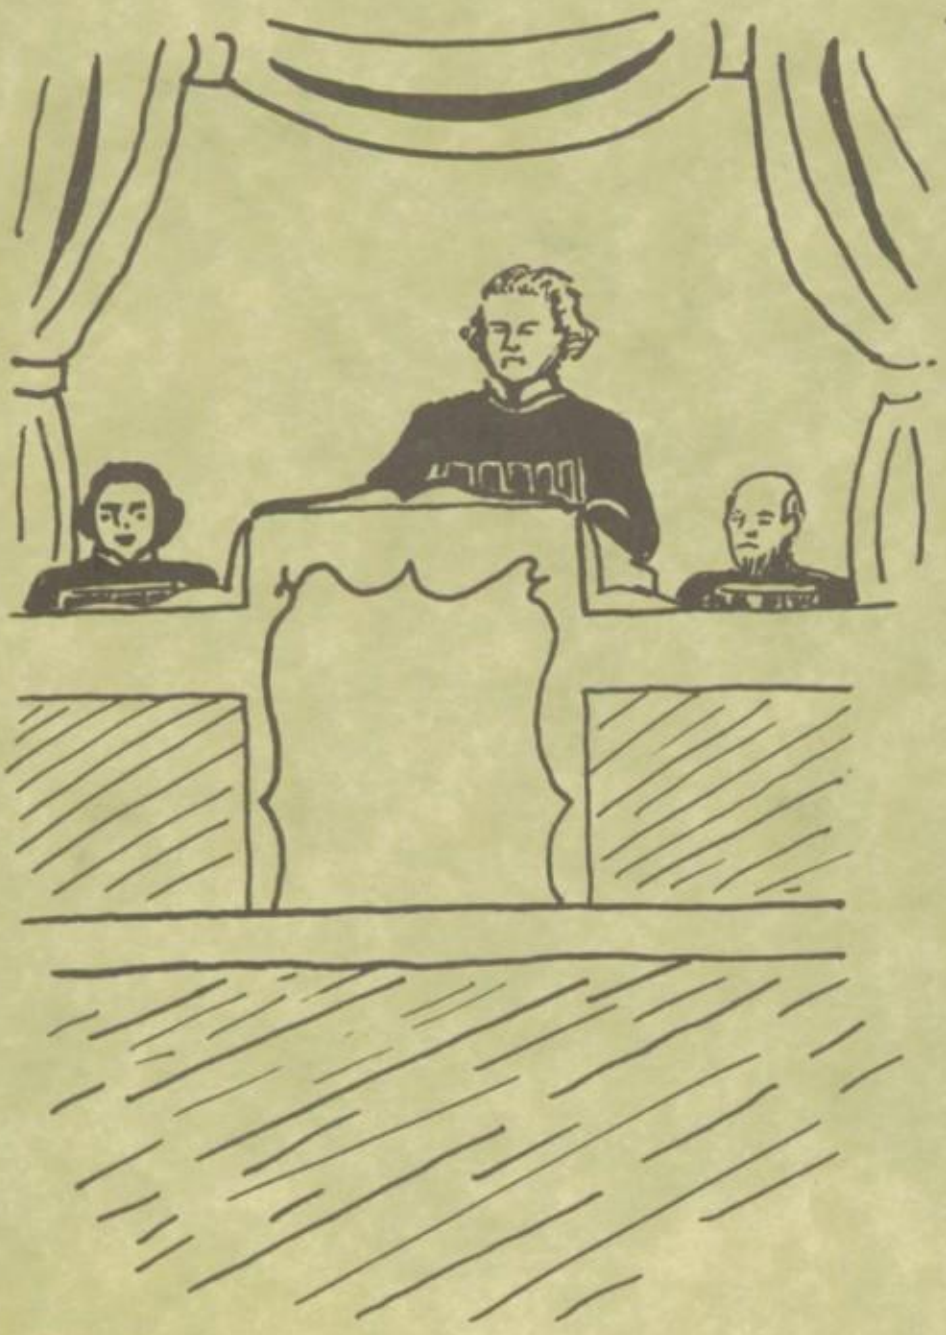
A council expresses grievances and contributes to the governing process.

Spirited musicians in a celebration of victory exemplify the oneness cherished by many.

The supreme governing faction of an institution works for the common good.





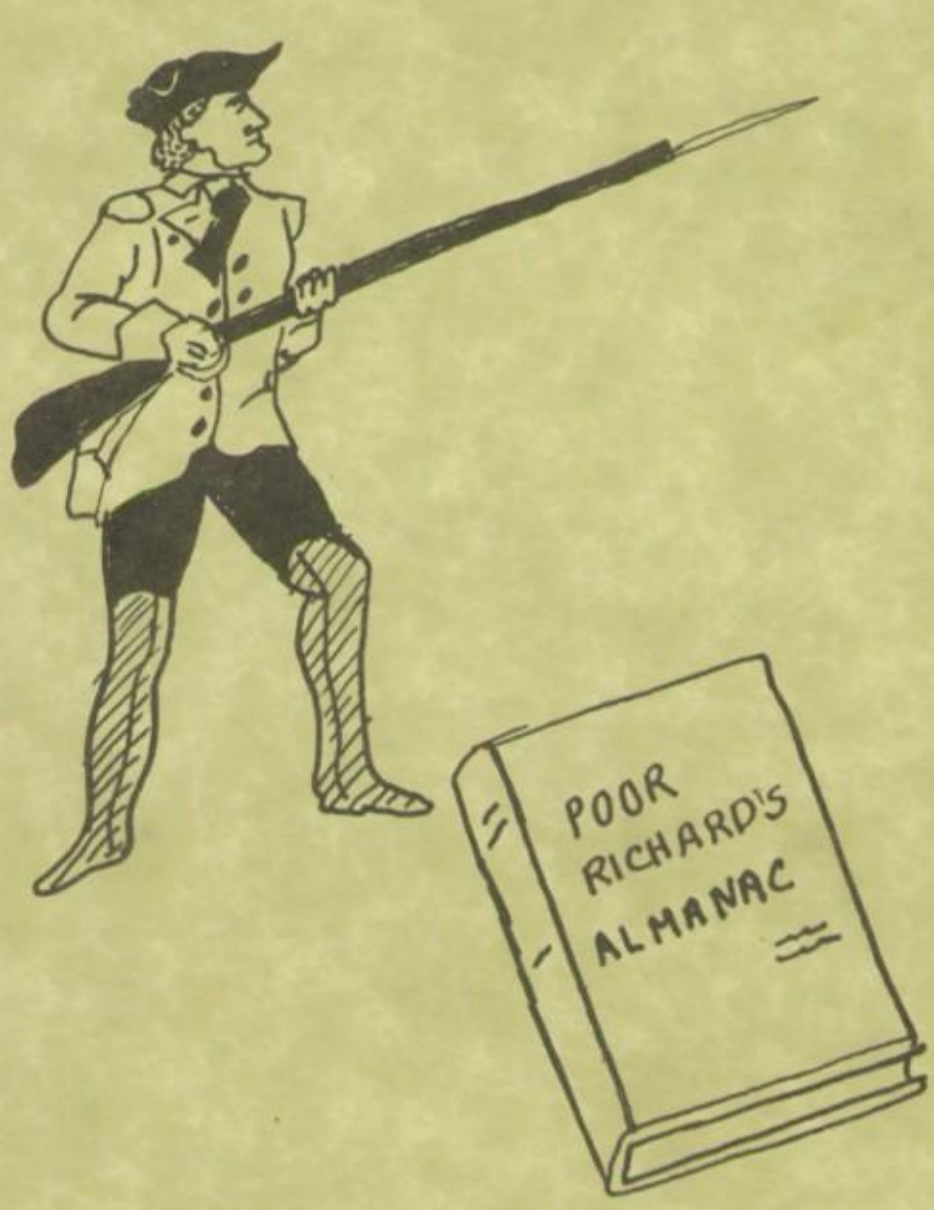


The requirements include integrity, courage, and determination by all. A lone soldier stands as many have stood.

Publications of thoughts, new developments, and recognitions circulate throughout the people to reach and provoke the interest of many.

Democracy is only effective when each citizen devotes his life to furthering his existence. To survive we must work as many; to progress we must work as one.

The future will be determined by the ones who instruct the children of today to be the adults of tomorrow.



Dedication

"It is the education which gives a man a clear conscious view of his own opinions and judgments, a truth in developing them, an eloquence in expressing them, and a force in urging them. It teaches him to see things as they are, to go right to the point, to disentangle a skein of thought, to detect what is sophistical, and to discard what is irrelevant. It prepares him to fill any post with credit, and to master any subject with facility."

In the year nineteen hundred and seventy-three, Miss Margaret Kazan joined the faculty staff of Washington School taking on the responsibility of teaching Reading, English, and Drama classes. Since that year she has introduced to Washington a unique interest in the exciting field of drama by establishing an active charter of the Thespian Society. The club has performed for numerous school programs with Miss Kazan directing. Being highly educated, Miss Kazan shares her enthusiasm for William Faulkner and other American authors with her industrious Juniors. She has instilled in her pupils a detailed and extensive background in literature and grammar.

For the past four years, Miss Kazan has devoted much of her attention to being the advisor of the Sabre Staff. Only because of her industrious and efficient handling of publication matters is the staff able to meet the deadlines involved in publishing a yearbook. With gratitude for her devotion to the annual and appreciation for her efforts in education, the Sabre Staff would like to dedicate this Bicentennial edition to Miss Margaret Kazan.

FEATURES

The 1976 Who's Who pageant premiered Feb. 3rd in the new WS multi-purpose room. As Hollywood gossip columnist Rona Barrett (Julie Land) critiqued the play, she expressed her excitement at seeing Emperor Galla Paxton, alias Robert Redford, Jr., perform in his award-winning role, as the Emperor with the incurable disease. To highlight the entertainment of the skit, a return of Gladys Knight and her illustrious Pips, with Diana Ross as hostess, enthralled the audience.

Miss Teri Trotter
Mr. Galla Paxton

Galla and Teri have both exhibited many leadership qualities and are much admired by their classmates at Washington. They were elected Friendliest and Best All Around in the 1976 Who's Who Elections and Teri was voted as the 1975 General's Lady during Washington's Homecoming. Galla was also chosen as senior boy class favorite. These students are two of the versatile ones here at Washington and have illustrated many sterling qualities to be admired.

SACS Accreditations

A highlight in WS's academic history was accreditation by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges. A detailed self-evaluation was written, printed, and bound in the spring of 1975. Then in the fall, outstanding educators from public and private schools and colleges spent three days inspecting WS's programs and facilities. Finally, in December, Mrs. Sidney, Mr. Bevalaque, and Mr. Meeks went to Atlanta to represent the school when WS was the first 1-12 graded private school in Mississippi ever to receive accreditation by the SACS. Right: Mr. Meeks and Mr. Bevalaque received certificates of accreditation from the SACS by Dr. Charles Holladay, chairman of the Mississippi Secondary Committee of SACS. Below: Dale Holloway of the State Department of Education and executive secretary of the Miss. Committee of SACS, Mrs. Sidney, Dr. Billy Thompson, chairman of the state Department of Secondary Education, and Foundation, Headmaster Lawrence Meeks, and Dr. Harold Fisher, president of Blue Mountain College and consultant for WS, all discuss WS's reports and evaluations for school accreditation.

Thyrza McCollum Day

Memories, both pleasant and sad, characterized the forty-one years of teaching for Thyrza Branton McCollum. In an emotional and entertaining "This-Is-Your-Life" program, on May 4, 1976, Fred DeLong, master of ceremonies, presented many individuals, some of whom are pictured below, to capture those fond recollections of childhood sweethearts, distant relatives, former teachers and students, and colleagues in the teaching profession. As the program ended, Mr. DeLong commented to Mrs. McCollum, "Perhaps you can never know just how many lives you have touched. But we know . . . because we are your children, your grandchildren, and your friends. We love you; we admire you, and we honor you."

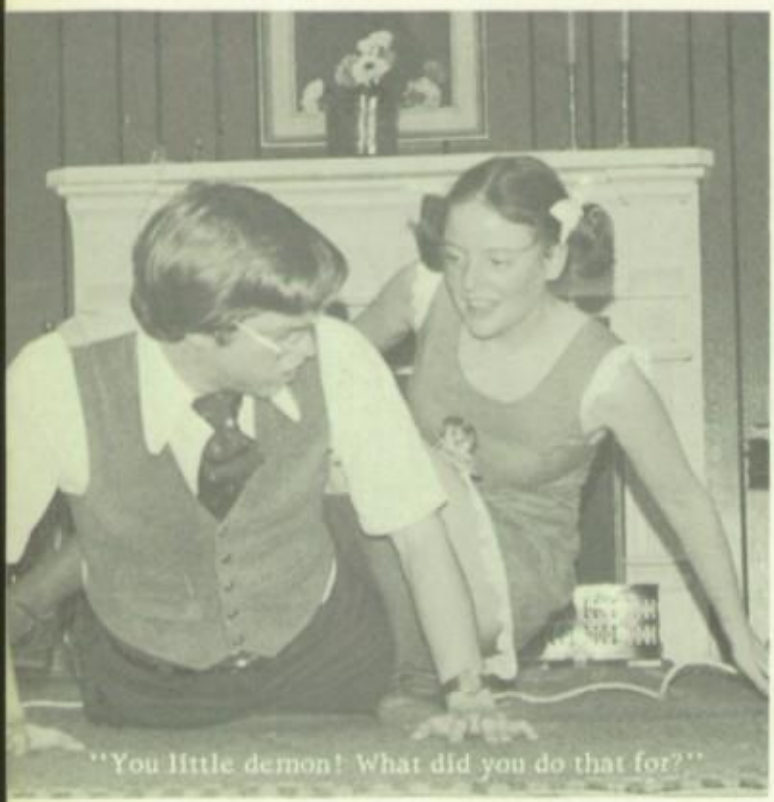
Is it Julie or Begonia?

I tell you what, this white paint just isn't coming off.

Nobody would ever believe I was a dentist's daughter.

"Mama's killed! She's dead! Oh no!"

But Miss Graves, ... enough freckles already!



"You little demon! What did you do that for?"

Seniors '76

Memories are so important to a senior in his last year in his high school education. The following pictures represent special moments, special times, and special places that are indelibly recorded in the memory books by the class of '76.

New antics played by new and not-so-new faces, resulted in an off-color motto of "lovers and livers" for the seniors. Excitement experienced as an underclassman radiates into expressions of '76 graduates. Our Class Officers, "nothing like them ever was, nothing like them ever will be, hopefully," were Tammie Wiggs - Sec.; Chris Glasco - Pres.; Jana Clark - Treas.; and Charles Yarbrough - V.P. As the seniors advanced from a little child to a young adult, they learned to play the games of life.

Mark sitting around "Getting Old."

Bob "flipping a waffle."

Pettiet posing for a change.

Another exciting day in English.

Tacky! Tacky! Tacky!

Why do ya'll keep looking at me that way?

Let's go park a shark.

Sunny enjoys the good life.

Lisa Wickery - the wet look.

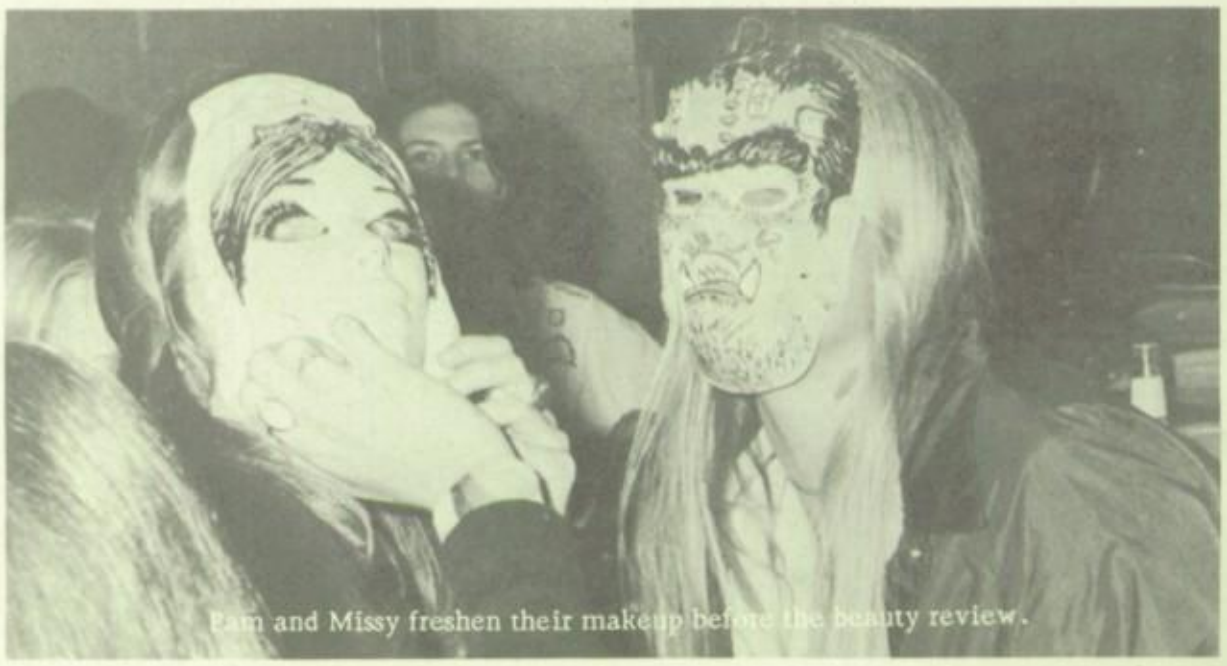
Gaila still can't believe she is a senior.

See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil.

Lynette, Missy, Cynthia, and Becky prepare for their first shave.

"Another Saturday night and I ain't got nobody."

Duhhhh . . .



Pam and Missy freshen their makeup before the beauty review.

It's been a hard day's night . . .

Penny counts her nickels!

Hey, baby, wanta boogie?

Four chicks from the '50's are ready to rock!

They call this "The Fabulous Fifties"?

"Boom" lays it on 'em.

Mommy! Mommy! Look what I got!

Aaaay!!!

Booms are bubbling over!
